

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1871.

The Fredericksburg Herald says:—"The Conservatives have to contend against a compact organization. The colored vote especially will be hurled in one solid mass. There are but two political parties in Virginia. Every man who means to exercise his rights must choose between them. There is no middle ground, no reason for indecision, or inaction." The Norfolk Journal asks:—"Have all those who desire to see our own State saved from the dark doom of some of our sister States, seriously reflected upon the crisis that has come? Have men of capital considered the consequences of Radical control in the councils of the Commonwealth? Have the laboring men looked forward, in contemplation of various threatened changes in the policy of our State Government, which will seriously affect their rights?" Think of these things, and act accordingly.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:—"Among the principal measures to be introduced during the next session of Congress, will be bills for the relief of the shipping interests. It is stated that representatives of this important industry are now in Washington, urging the President to recommend to Congress the passage of laws reducing the tariff on all the materials that enter into the construction of vessels, whether built of iron or wood. Direct subsidies to steamship companies, it is believed, will not be favorably considered."

The Richmond Enquirer states that there are three thousand public schools now in operation in Virginia, costing annually $1,000,000. The Enquirer says:—"It has been no holiday affair in putting these schemes in operation. Our people are poor, and are grumbling incessantly about their taxes. For them at such a time, without a murmur, to have undertaken the education of 100,000 children—to furnish school houses and books, and teachers, and fuel—is a decidedly notable thing."

Accounts from South Carolina state that U. S. cavalry are scouring the counties of Spartanburg and Union, but they seem to find but few people to arrest, most of the white males having fled from their homes. Women and children are doing all the farm work, and many fine farms are offered for sale at a sacrifice. It is now "said" that influential Republican leaders in the neighborhood, are satisfied that this matter is pushed too far.

Bullock, late Governor of Georgia, has quit the State, RESIGNED, and come on to Washington. His departure was like that of Catiline from Rome, as described by Cicero. The words we need not quote. Thus ingloriously terminates an inglorious career. He, it is reported, says that he feared he would be impeached! Here is another of the "rulers of the South," fastened upon them, and dropping off, after being gorged with the spoils of office!

The Fredericksburg Ledger (Republican) says:—"The Republican party can truly say to some of its adherents, 'save me from my friends, and I will take care of my enemies,' for just now its integrity is more assailed from within than without, and we can repeat with Gen. Butler that the party needs purifying in its own house, and right there the task must begin."

A report is given of the proceedings of a Radical Ward meeting, held in Washington, last night, which exceeds anything we ever before read of in the history of public meetings. The principal persons figuring at this meeting called each other liars, scoundrels, dogs, blackguards, &c., &c. The whole affair was disgraceful.

The Richmond Dispatch remarks that there "never was a time when Virginia more needed the faithful devotion of her children—never a time when their manhood and constancy were more necessary to the preservation of the best interests of the State." Let this be borne in mind.

If the accounts which are published in the newspapers concerning the brutal custom of "lazing" as practiced at West Point, be true, the authorities there who have permitted such proceedings, should be severely condemned.—There is no excuse for them, any more than there is for the cadets.

An article in the Washington Capital attributes the saving of Washington, from capture by Gen. Early, during the war, when he made his advance upon that city, to the exertions of Capt. Chamberlain—now Col. Chamberlain—who resides in Loudoun county, Va.

After business in the Supreme Court yesterday, Attorney General Akerman announced to the court the death of Mr. Thomas Ewing, and delivered an appropriate eulogy, the Chief Justice responding on behalf of the bench.

Ex-Gov. Smith addressed the people of King George on Saturday, at noon, and on the evening of the same day spoke to a large assemblage at the Court-house in Fredericksburg.

The ravages of the small-pox in Philadelphia are increasing, instead of diminishing. Yellow fever lingers in Charleston; and in Vicksburg and Natchez the disease is fatal.

It is said that Gen. Sherman will soon leave this country on a tour of inspection of the military fortifications in Europe.

Wendell Phillips says that "in one half of the States there is no republic." He strikes out a truth now and then!

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

The Washington Patriot says that it is believed nearly all the Tennessee claims which have been audited and paid during the last two years, are fraudulent, and there is to be an immediate and general overhauling of all these transactions.

The decline in the price of Anthracite coal is immediately followed by a proposition to "suspend" coal production in the Schuylkill region! This is the game!

It is thought that the French Assembly will hold its sessions in Paris, this winter—not at Versailles.

The yearly meeting of Orthodox Friends, recently held in Baltimore, closed its sessions on Thursday last.

Large flocks of wild pigeons are reported as having appeared in some of the counties in the Northern Neck of Virginia.

Chief Justice Kean, of Utah, has admitted a man named Wells, (indicted for murder,) to bail, in the sum of $50,000!

We have received the October number of the University Magazine. It has many excellent articles relating to Education.

We have received the Monthly Report of the Department of Agriculture, for October 1871.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The Dean of Chester, England, the Bishop of Kansas, and Bishop Johns, of Virginia, were present at the Missionary meeting at St. Paul's Church, in Richmond, on Sunday evening, and the former delivered a very eloquent and impressive address on the work of the laity and addressed to the revival of the order of deaconesses in the Church. An immense congregation attended and a collection was taken up and a handsome sum realized for the cause of missions.

The Fredericksburg Herald says:—"During the heavy storm which passed over 'Farley Vale,' King George county, on Thursday, the corn-house was struck by lightning, one end of which was shivered and a large walnut tree demolished. Four of Maj. Rogers' farm hands were in the corn-house at the time, but they came out unhurt. Maj. R.'s pen of fattening hogs, containing forty-five in number, was adjoining, and ten of them were killed."

Col. Wm. H. Browne, is out as an independent candidate, for Stafford county. Mr. Babcock, a Radical, is to be voted for as a party candidate by the Republicans. Mr. J. R. U. S. Suttle was fairly nominated by the Conservatives, and ought to receive the support of the whole Conservative party.

The whole family of Mr. Geo. Waugh, living near Orange Court House, a few days ago, after eating rice and milk for dinner, were made very sick, and it was ascertained that ammoniated copper was in the dish. Medical aid prevented fatal results.

The manufacture of sassafras oil in Virginia is attracting a good deal of attention. There is a large manufactory at Frederick Hall, in Louisa, one in Spotsylvania, and one in Richmond. One will, it is said, soon commence at Tappahannock.

The Richmond State Journal hopes that the charters granted by the last General Assembly for the construction of the Farmville, Charlottesville and Stanardsville, and other narrow-gauge railroads, in Virginia, will not be allowed to expire by limitation.

Rev. Dr. Hoge, of Richmond, has been unanimously called to the First Presbyterian Church in Nashville. His acceptance is very doubtful.

The City Council of Lynchburg have employed counsel to defend the interest of the city, in the case of Tyson vs. the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad.

A Methodist Church was dedicated, on Sunday, in Rappahannock county, about three from Grifflinsburg.

The O. A. & M. R. R. and the R. F. & P. R. R. will issue half fare tickets to visitors to the State fair.

A WAR ANECDOTE.—The battle of Gravelly Run, fought the day before the disastrous engagement at Five Forks, in which Pickett's gallant division met with irretrievable defeat, was a most memorable and proud day in the annals of the "Lost Cause." Four or five depleted Confederate brigades, Huntton's among them, attacked with impetuosity several Union corps, and drove it back several miles. The glint in the eye of Virginians in faded gray on that day outshone the fierce gleam on their polished bayonets, and a hectic glow of hope on their bronzed cheeks told that night a flattering tale. Among those who shared the perils of that glorious field was E. D. Kincheloe, one of the nominees of the Conservative Convention of Fauquier county. Far in advance of his original line, baring his naked bosom to a storm of bullets, leading and firing with veteran precision, while in the act of huzzing a cheering "onward," an enfilading missile struck him in the mouth, carrying away his front teeth, and hushing his half-uttered victorious battle shout. His fall, however, he righted about, and sought the rear, concealing his wound and staunching the flow of blood with his hand. Nearing a tree under which Gen. Lee stood, a shade of severity gathered on the usually serene brow of that grand old chieftain, as he hailed Kincheloe, and asked him "sir, why have you left your comrades?" In dropping the hand to respond, the cause was apparent, and the heart of the mistaken General, evidently softened, as he said in tones of commiseration, "I beg your pardon, dear sir, go back and have the surgeon dress your wound."—Warrenton Index.

SURE DEED.—In 1869 a man named Addison Moe purchased from the late E. C. Randolph, as agent of John Wimbish, S. P. Wimbish, and Abram Wimbish, the very valuable farm lying in Campbell and Halifax counties, known as "Green Hill" containing 6,000 acres. The price agreed to be paid was $80,000, but it was paid in various pieces of property, real and personal, in other States. The properties were exchanged and conveyances made. When the Messrs. Wimbish made more accurate inquiries into the status of the property transferred to them, they found themselves the victims of a gross fraud, and that it was of little or no value. They further found that a few days after the property had been conveyed by them to Moe, Moe had conveyed one-fourth of the estate to E. C. Randolph.

Suspicion was thus aroused, and was one of the causes which led to the tragic death of the late Randolph. During the summer of 1870 a bill in chancery was filed in Campbell Circuit Court by the Messrs. Wimbish asking for a revision of the contract between them and Moe, and for a decree cancelling the deed from them to Moe, and from Moe to Randolph. This case, after taking much evidence, was submitted to Judge Wingfield during the present court, and he rendered his decision on Thursday for the plaintiffs, setting aside both deeds as fraudulent, and restoring the Green Hill property to the Messrs. Wimbish.—Lynchburg Virginian.

At the Baltimore Charles Street M. E. Church last night, the sum of $4,300.13 was subscribed in a very short time, for Chicago.

According to the New York Sun Secretary Boutwell has been sent to New York, on a claim of one B. Clifford Galvin who alleges that in 1869 he gave Mr. B. a sketch of what has since been put in practice by that gentleman as his "financial policy," also that before giving the secretary said sketch, Galvin claimed to be paid for it; by accepting it and acting upon it, he insists that the Secretary is bound to pay, the full value of which he places at $2,000,000!

The steamship Austrian, of the Allan line, arrived at Baltimore on Saturday morning, and this day will sail for Liverpool with a very full lading, comprised of tobacco, cotton, wheat, corn and oil cake. The North American will sail from Liverpool on November 7th for Baltimore, and following her there will be a steamer every two weeks, with the ships of the Bremen line, which form weekly steam communication between Baltimore, Liverpool, Southampton and Bremen.

Col. Wicksor has declined the appointment for U. S. attorney for Utah, for the reason that the Postmaster General would not consent that he should hold the office of postal agent and attorney at the same time. Chief Justice McKean has designated Robert M. Buskin as attorney, and has recommended him for appointment. Major Hempstead, who resigned as attorney, is at present leading counsel for Brigham Young.

Debtors held in civil suits, in the Ludlow street jail in New York have suffered so greatly that the attention of the Courts was finally called to their condition, and Judge Barnard yesterday had them brought before him. He released two, and will hear the cases of the others. Imprisonment for debt exists in New York after it has been abolished almost in every other State of the country.

The Attorney General of the U. S. was lately at Yorkville, S. C., and will himself appear for the Government in the preliminary examinations to be had before the U. S. Commissioner, under the Kukuk law. He has associated with him, besides the U. S. District Attorney, R. B. Elliott, the colored member of Congress from the Elizabeth district.

Gustave Tannetz, long celebrated in Paris as the "swallow of sabres," has died of a throat disease. A natural sequence, one would say, and be mistaken, for Gustave was equally celebrated as a swallower of whiskey, and while he survived the sabres, to the whiskey he succumbed.

Persons who are acquainted with the character of Brigham Young, express the conviction that he will steer clear of the government, and that now when he has taken his departure from Utah he will seek to himself, and not stand the test of his faith before the United States courts.

Andrew Stever, a farmer living six miles east of Delphos, Ohio, was confined in his own house on Saturday night by a robber, who, after asking for matches, prevented a revolver. Stever knocked the revolver from the robber's hand and stabbed him to death with a pocket knife. The coroner's jury exonerated Stever.

The heaviest loser by the Chicago fire is said to have been the estate of C. F. W. Peck, who went to that city in 1831, and who is now dead, leaving an estate still worth millions. It is said he never gave a note or signed one for another, and never took or gave credit or grace.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Mail states that Captain William Forrest, a brother of Gen. N. B. Forrest, was shot and killed about two weeks ago in Texas, on the Rio Grande. No particulars of his death have been received except that he was slain in a personal rencontre with some Texans.

The report of the Register of the Treasury will show that during the fiscal year ending June the 30th, 1871, the tonnage built within the limits of the grand divisions into which the United States is divided, was 5,631 tons less than for the preceding fiscal year.

Samples of the so-called tin ore received from Utah Territory, where supposed tin discoveries have created such an excitement, have been subjected, at the General Land Office, to a chemical analysis, and also to a crucible assay, but in neither case could the least trace of tin be found.

They have begun in Canada to cultivate rabbits as an article of food, imitating European countries, where hundreds of miles of coast lands are used as rabbit warrens, and their produce furnishes a cheap and nutritious food for millions, while the furs have considerable value in trade.

Accounts from Texas say that the tax assessed by Governor Davis on the people of Lime-stone county, which was recommended to be put under martial law, will be fourteen per cent. of the total real and personal property held in that county.

The treasurer of the U. S., in his annual report now being prepared will charge that recent reports of government funds stolen from the wrecked steamer Golden Rule, several years ago were the results of a combination for the purpose of effecting political purposes.

Gov. Bullock, of Georgia, who resigned his office on the 23d, retired from the position yesterday, and Benjamin Conley, President of the Senate, was installed as his successor. The accession of Conley to the gubernatorial chair has created great excitement in Atlanta.

Intelligence comes from Buenos Ayres that during the past summer no less than twenty thousand persons died in that place from yellow fever, and that thirty thousand had died in the Province of Corrientes from the same disease.

It was rumored in New York yesterday that Tweed has resigned as a candidate for the State Senate and the office of Commissioner of Public Works, and that Morgan Jones will be his successor in the nomination for Senator.

In New York yesterday the Athletic Base Ball Club of Philadelphia won the title of champions of the U. S. The contest was with the White Stockings, and was the deciding game for the championship series.

Lehigh operators have reduced prices twenty-five to fifty cts. per ton and Schuylkill operators fifty to seventy-five cts. per ton, below the prices of a month ago.

The Des Moines (Iowa) Register reports the birth of five pairs of twins in that city within a short time.

THE RACES.—The Pinckney races yesterday were attended by nearly ten thousand persons. There were four races. The first, a one-and-a-half mile dash for all ages, was won by Lord Byron. The second, mile heats, open only to horses owned in Maryland, was won by Mr. P. M. Hall's horse, "John Merryman," on the third heat; there were five entries for this race. The third race, a dash of one-and-a-half miles, for three horses, was won by a horse owned by Mr. Thomas W. Dowell. The fourth was the great race between Harry Bassett, owned by Mr. McDaniel, and Helmholt, owned by Mr. W. R. Babcock, four mile heats, best two in three; Harry Bassett won two heats and carried off the prize. A great deal of money was won on these races, particularly the last one. To-day will close the Pinckney meeting.—Baltimore American.

ARBITRARY GOVERNMENT.—Section 9 of the first article of the Constitution declares that "the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may demand it." The Constitution thus clearly specifies what are the cases in which the "public safety" justifies a suspension of the writ, and to those cases it is strictly confined. Rebellion or invasion are facts which do not depend upon "the opinion" of any one, but are matters of absolute knowledge and certainty, as open armed resistance to the government or invasion must necessarily be. Outside of the proclamation of Gen. Grant, who ever dreamed that there was a "rebellion" in South Carolina? Who believes it now? Rebellion is open resistance to the government, and taking up arms against it. Even on the supposition that secret organizations exist which have punished men by whipping or death, is that "rebellion"? No one can pretend it. In addition to this there is no evidence of any more assaults upon individuals by local lands in South Carolina than in North Carolina, and if the federal judge and the district attorney in that State could inaugurate a reign of terror without the aid of the military, why suspend the writ of habeas corpus in South Carolina? The results of this needless enforcement of an unconstitutional law are witnessed in the heart rending afflictions and distress of a suffering people.—Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The late Rev. James B. Donham, many years pastor of St. Matthew's Church, in this city, and subsequently at Burlington, Iowa, died intestate in that city last January. He had been heard to say that he designed leaving what he might possess to the College in Georgetown, and his sister, Mrs. J. H. Drury, the next heir, residing in Chicago, came on here recently to carry out what she knew to have been his desire, and while here the fire took place in Chicago, which destroyed everything she possessed. Notwithstanding this she determined to adhere to her purpose, and deposited the sum of $12,000 left by her brother with the trustees of the college, and then returned, penniless, to her devastated home to begin life again.

Writs were served on five farmers, in Georgetown, yesterday, selling produce in the new building recently erected in rear of the butcher's market, directing them to appear before the Police court to answer a charge of violating the law by selling outside of the market square.

The Circuit Court opened its fall term for business, yesterday, and called over five hundred cases, assigning about three hundred for trial during the term.

Yesterday, a carpenter named John Sutherland, working on the cornice of a four-story house on Capitol Hill, while moving from one portion of the scaffold to another, lost his balance, and fell to the ground, and was killed.—The deceased leaves a wife and three children.

THE BOUNDARY LINE.—At the first session of the last Legislature, Messrs. Wm. Watts, D. C. DeJarnette, and Gen. Henry A. Wise were appointed commissioners to settle the boundary line between Virginia and Maryland. The latter State also appointed a similar number of commissioners to meet those of Virginia, at such a time as might be agreed upon between them.

During the administration of Gov. Wise, the records in relation to this question were obtained from England and filed in the office of the secretary of the Commonwealth, but during the war these documents were stolen from the secretary's office, and the records so mutilated as to render it necessary to procure additional copies from the mother country.

Mr. DeJarnette, one of the above named commissioners, was appointed to visit England, and obtain official copies of the records. This duty Mr. DeJarnette performed during the present year, and arrived with them, he, in company with the remaining two commissioners, Messrs. Watts and Wise, recently visited the bay, for the purpose of carrying out the requirements of the acts of Assembly in relation to the question.

Our commissioners have returned, and report that only one of the Maryland commissioners, Mr. Aydelott, made his appearance, who informed the Virginia commissioners that his colleagues declined to meet them in consultation.—Rich State Journal.

PASSION IN OLD AGE.—From England comes the report of one more of those startling cases of assassination which have made the past few months memorable in the annals of eccentric homicide. The Reverend John Selby Watson, a clergyman and an author, sixty-seven (or, as otherwise reported, seventy-six) years of age, formerly master of a great public school, and now living out his later days in comfort and the enjoyment of public confidence and esteem at Stockwell, near London, suddenly seized with a fit of blind passion, murders his almost equally aged wife by beating out her brains. This done, and contriving some lusty plan for concealing the body, he writes a letter, briefly confessing the deed and takes strychnine, but failing in his attempt, is arrested and is now on trial for the murder.

SALE OF INSURANCE DEPOSITS.—On next Friday, November 3d, State Treasurer Rye will sell at auction, Richmond, so much of the deposits of Virginia, United States and Petersburg railroad bonds placed in the State Treasury by the Merchants' and Mechanics' Fire Insurance company, of Baltimore, Md., the Latham Fire Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., the Security Insurance company, of New York, the Manhattan Fire Insurance company, of New York, the Atlantic Fire Insurance company, of Brooklyn, and the North American Fire Insurance company, of New York, as may be necessary to pay the liabilities of said companies to citizens of Virginia, they having failed to meet said liabilities, and all the necessary evidence in sundry cases being furnished to the State Treasury.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.—John Quincy Adams, in a letter to the committee appointed by the women's suffrage seekers of Massachusetts, to obtain the views of the candidates on this subject, says: "After careful thought and some study, I am firmly and unequivocally opposed to woman suffrage, and shall feel it my duty in the very improbable contingency of my ever occupying any considerable public office, to stand by the old immemorial division of activities and functions which seems to me to be at the foundations of society."

THE VALLEY RAILROAD.—A gentleman just from Baltimore informs us that on Saturday last the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company subscribed $1,000,000 to the Valley Railroad Company, and that on yesterday the city of Baltimore was expected to subscribe $1,000,000 more, thus insuring the completion of the road. The Board of Directors of the Valley road held a meeting in Staunton this week to decide on the route from Harrisburg to Staunton.—Richmond Dispatch.

OBITUARY.

DEATH OF REV. DR. TUSTIN.—Rev. Dr. Septimus Tustin died in this city, on Saturday morning last, at his residence, Sixteenth, near H st., at an advanced age. Dr. Tustin was one of the first Presbyterian ministers in this city, and was also the pastor of one of the first Presbyterian churches here. For some months past he had been acting pastor of the Fifth-street Presbyterian Church. He was also a prominent member of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association. He was chaplain of the University of Virginia in 1829; was elected chaplain to the House of Representatives of the United States in 1830; was subsequently re-elected to the same position, and afterward was elected chaplain to the United States Senate. Dr. Tustin has been elected on frequent occasions to serve as moderator in the several courts of the Presbyterian Church, and was distinguished for the ability and courtesy with which he presided. He will be ever remembered for the zeal with which he acted in the General Assembly which met at Columbus, Ohio, in 1862, in favor of the reunion of the two branches of the Presbyterian Church. He was President of the Board of Trustees of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., of which board he remained a valuable member until his death. The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him by the Trustees of Jefferson College, Pa. He was formerly pastor of the First Church, in this city, and of churches in Pennsylvania and Maryland, to all of which he ministered with fidelity and success.—Brook. Chron.

Dr. Tustin was well known to many of the citizens of Alexandria, having frequently preached in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church. He was the intimate friend and contemporary of the late Rev. Dr. Harrison. His funeral took place from the Bridge Street Church, Georgetown, yesterday afternoon. The exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Carter, of Baltimore. Rev. Mr. McFall, Rev. Mr. Mitchell, and Rev. Dr. Chester, of Washington; and the discourse was preached by Rev. Byron Sunderland. His remains were followed to the beautiful cemetery at Georgetown by a large concourse of mourning friends, including several from Alexandria.

Died, in Baltimore, on the 26th of October, at half-past eight o'clock p. m., after a painful illness, Mrs. ELIZABETH ROBERTS, relict of Dr. George C. M. Roberts, in the 64th year of her age.
